Dear Brewster:

We are excited to confirm your participation in the second annual Bionomics Conference to be held October 21-22, 1994 in San Francisco. You are tentatively scheduled to speak on Friday, October 21 at 9:30 am. You will be given 40 minutes to speak followed by a 10 minute Q & A period. We are striving to build on last year's conference, both in the quality of the presentations and the high caliber of attendees. Once again, we are bringing together leading thinkers and doers in biology, technology, economics, business, and public policy, producing a highly interdisciplinary affair.

Our objective is to catalyze a new dialogue about evolution, technology, economic thinking, and public policy; not to reach any firm conclusions, but to explore related ideas that are emerging in different fields. There are no rules to follow, but we urge you to avoid giving your standard speech with no attention paid to the bionomic context of the conference and the remarks to be made by other speakers.

We have enclosed a Speaker Information Form for you to complete and return to us. Most important is the title and abstract of your presentation. This also will ensure that your name appears as you desire on the program and announcements, that we are informed of your audio/visual requirements, and other essential details. In particular, if you plan to do any "live" computer demonstrations, we need to coordinate with you regarding hardware, communications and displays. And if you haven't already done so, please make sure you also send us a copy of your current biography or C.V.

We will make room reservations for you at the conference hotel, the San Francisco Marriott, for Thursday and Friday nights. Please confirm on the enclosed form whether or not you will be staying both nights. If you would like to stay at the Marriott on Saturday night, we would be happy to make reservations for you, however, we will not be able to pick up the expense of the extra night.

Regarding travel expenses, The Bionomics Institute will reimburse your cost of ground transportation to the San Francisco Marriott at $0.29 per mile. Please submit to us an invoice with any receipts for reimbursable expenses (i.e. bridge tolls).

Please note, The Bionomics Institute will be recording the conference, including your presentation, for subsequent distribution to conference attendees and other individuals and groups associated with the Institute. Your rights of ownership of your material will remain unaffected, and the tapes will be distributed by the Institute alone.

Your acceptance of our invitation to speak at the Bionomics Conference implies consent to the marketing and distribution of your recorded presentation. If you have any objections, please contact Beth by August 8th.

For those of you who are authors, we will be setting up a small bookstore at the registration desk of the conference. If you would like to make your book available to conference attendees, please contact Beth for the shipping address of the Marriott.

Brewster, thank you for joining us. We look forward to working with you, not only to ensure that your presentation is well received, but so that you enjoy your time at the conference as well. If you have any questions or there is anything we can do in that regard, please don't hesitate to give us a call. Your key contact will be Beth.

Best regards,

Steve Gibson
